

What Do You Mean?

By: Lauren Carr

1. You keep me true to my word;
The effortless act of interlocking
You with another to establish an affiance.
A pact. A promise.
An unbreakable commitment.

2. You're the symbol of infatuated love and devotion;
Represented by a precious piece of jewelry--
A beloved stone or single band.
Dressed by he who holds the key to my heart.
You're the display of a life-long vow.

3. You stand tall among all the rest;
Expressing what simply can't be put into words
At times when I am speechless.
But you deliver a message to all who block the way.
A painless motion and an uncomplicated message.

4. You're the "pointer".
It is you who points out the ones I cherish the most--
Imperative family members.
You're the one who reveals the ones who really matter;
Without you I wouldn't know who to run to.

5. You stand alone;
Simply saying "I'm fine"
Or "Everything is good".
You're the one who gives approval
And are there when words fail me.
